For the accident or apologize.
The less you say to the others
involved, the better.

by answering their questions honestly,
but do not speculate about the cause of the crash or offer more detail than what you're asked.

SAFETY FIRST

Defensive Driving

When a driver seeks out potential problems before they happen, then he or she is driving defensively. After all, it is important to drive safely. And in that process, you'll save money, time, and lives.

TEN TIPS TO AVOID A CAR ACCIDENT

1 CHECK YOUR CAR BEFORE DRIVING.

2 LOOK BOTH WAYS BEFORE ENTERING AN INTERSECTION.
